Ups & Downs in the Marijuana Industry

The marijuana term "Mary Jane" came to be because...

A.) Mary Jane Rathbun was a cannabis activist in the 1960s who made hundreds of pot brownies daily to help those with AIDS.

B.) Mary Jane Croft was an actress from the 1930s-1970s who played a rambunctious character who loved marijuana.

C.) Mary Jane Goodson Carlisle was a popular social leader in Kentucky who had a pot plantation in the 1800s.

D.) The literal Spanish to English translation of "marijuana" is "Mary Jane." The term got popular in the 1970s because of Rick James' hit song.

DID YOU KNOW...

Oils & concentrates often are the most expensive cannabis products to purchase product liability insurance for, particularly concentrates intended for use in vaporizing devices.

Some insurance carriers will even apply different rates for vape oil in a syringe versus one in a pre-filled cartridge!

Regardless, if the cannabis you sell is in a form that can vaporized, as opposed to smoked, it's important to know the differences in how your insurance company assesses those risks. We can help you tailor coverage to fit your needs.

Do You Think Cannabis Taxation is Theft? Attorney Thorne Does!

Many agree that cannabis taxes are outrageous. Both consumer and provider are being taxed extensively. So much in fact that in most states the sales taxes for cannabis are higher than wine, beer, hard alcohol, and tobacco combined.

Thorne asks: "Is it any wonder why the illegal market is doing so well while established cannabis businesses are falling by the wayside and going into insolvency?"
